

Management Systems Auditing for the Automotive Industry

Driving continuous improvement

International standards such as ISO/TS 16949, ISO 9001, and ISO 14001 will help you reduce the complexity and overhead required to administer separate proprietary programs for individual customers. But that increased efficiency doesn't have to stop when you get your certificate.

As the automotive industry continues to refine its quality requirements, more and more companies are discovering the benefits of enlisting Intertek for their management system's certification.

Quick Intertek Facts

The solution

Intertek can provide evidence that your organization's quality management system (QMS) meets the requirements of a wide range of internationally-recognized standards, including ISO/TS 16949, ISO 9001, ISO 14001, and many others.

A certified QMS will help you improve products and processes, which can foster improved relationships with your customers and give your business a real advantage in the marketplace. And when you choose a leading registrar such as Intertek – one of the few to be contracted and approved by the IATF for ISO/TS 16949 – you'll gain the advantage of an efficient certification process performed by professionals with relevant automotive industry experience.

We've been down that road before

With Intertek as your auditing and certification partner, you'll gain valuable tools to meet objectives, identify cost savings, and make measurable improvements to the business. For example, by using Intertek's detailed trend analysis, a global Tier 1 automotive interiors supplier reduced their average findings per site audit by over 80%!

Since issuing our first QS-9000 certificate in 1994, we've performed thousands of audits for automotive companies all over the world. This unique combination of expertise and global reach gives us the insight needed to provide you with truly efficient and cost-effective auditing solutions. Our accomplished lead auditors deliver audit results that go beyond basic compliance – they give you the tools to minimize risk and address the needs of the business.

As a founding member of the IASG (International Automotive Sector Group), and founder and chair of the IACBA (International Automotive Certification Bodies Association), we have the inside edge on new and upcoming industry developments – information we pass on to you to keep you fully updated on the latest requirements.

With a high level of technical expertise and a long history of leadership in the automotive industry, Intertek is uniquely qualified to provide auditing solutions that help you to reduce documentation, avoid loss of production, and quickly meet customer requirements.
